FURTHER INFORMATION

Salivix can be used for stimulation of saliva production, when secretion is impaired and potentially functioning gland tissue is still present. The intended use of these slow dissolving pastilles is stimulation of the saliva flow and to relieve the feeling of dry mouth.

The increased saliva secretion reduces the risk for dental decay and mouth infection. Calcium lactate and sodium phosphate provide buffering to the acidity of the product. The mentioned buffering system together with saliva and xylitol contribute to the remineralisation of the teeth enamel.

Maltitol syrup and xylitol are included as sweeteners, sucrose being avoided to reduce the risk of dental caries. The pastilles are tutti-frutti flavoured.
